

Natural Stone Rockery

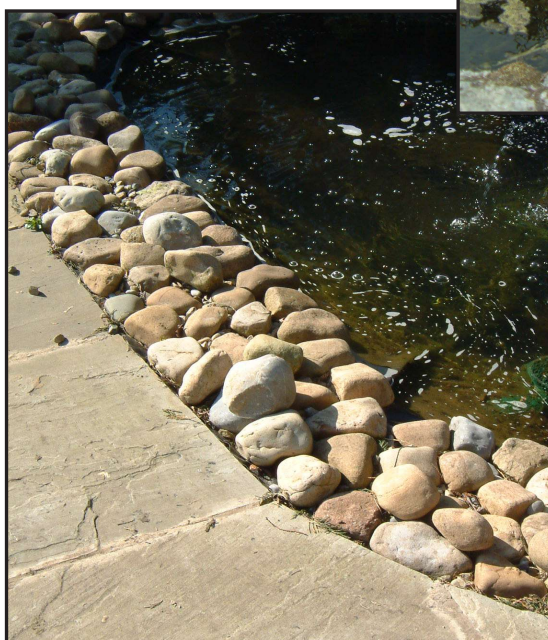

Yorkstone Rockery

This timeless, rugged natural yorkstone rockery is ideal for building garden features when landscaping. The attractive buff tones compliment the colours of planting within any garden. Not only is this rockery stone a natural asset, it is durable proving impervious to all weather conditions, only to mature gracefully.

Limestone Rockery

Limestone rockery is an attractive stone which over the years matures only to accentuate its natural beauty. This rockery is very versatile to use for any landscaping application such as rockeries, borders and water features, to name but a few. Another asset of this stone is that it commonly attracts and promotes the growth of mosses and lichens to give a more mature appearance.

Pebbles

Smooth riverwashed pebbles accentuate any garden feature due to their shape, size and varying tones. As a robust and adaptable solution for finishing landscaping projects, these pebbles can be used to accentuate borders, ponds, beds and lawns and can also be utilised in pathways.

Please note that colours may differ from the photographs shown.
